Welcome to Servino on Ark Row

The Wine Book is a tribute to Italy's diverse wine growing regions, and to the some of country's most celebrated producers of classical and natural wine. Our collection is a curation of wines that we enjoy at our family table, from the most casual dinners to formal affairs.

We thoughtfully select wines that have a strong sense of place and are best enjoyed with the food on your plate. Like the produce we source for your meals, we strive to find wines that are made from grapes that are grown organically and biodynamically with minimal intervention or manipulation.

Every day, we cherish the relationships with growers, producers, and distributors that we have built over the last 40+ years, which makes it all the more special when we get to showcase their hard work.

Salute!

CHAMPAGNE METHOD - Nicola Gatta

At the heart of the Franciacorta DOCG, Nicola Gatta takes advantage of the limestone rich soils and farms biodynamically on the lunar cycle to produce Chardonnay & Pinot Noir based sparklers that rival Champagne..

Comm. G.M. Burlotto

Giovan Battista Burlotto, “Il Commendatore”, accomplished more during his 70 year winemaking tenure than anyother in the region. Being one of the first to bottle Barolo, and becomong the offical supplier to the Royal House of Savory, rulers of the region in the 19th century. Today, the winemaking is directed by G.B.’s great-great grandson, Fabio Alessandrio, and there is a renewed sense of energy at the estate.

Paolo Bea

The Bea family has been farming on the hills Montefalco in Central Umbria since the early 1500's. In the 20th century, Paolo and his son Giampiero, were pillars in the natural wine movement by resisting modern techniques and machinery to advocate organic farming without chemicals. Today, they remain the benchmark for exceptional fruit, dynamic and singular wines..

Emidio Pepe

Emidio Pepe is a singular producer creating amazingly complex age-worthy white and red wines in a region of mass-produced, overly engineered versions of Montepulciano d'Abruzzo. Though the family has been producing wines here since the end of the 19th Century, the winemaking process has remained philosophically unchanged since Emidio Pepe took over the estate in 1964.
